BISHOP FALLON HIGH SCHOOL / HOLY ANGELS COLLEGIATE INSTITUTE HALL of FAME NOMINATION FORM

Joe Barrile, Class of 1969, is a consummate Bishop Fallon High School graduate. He devotes his time and energy to attaining and then preserving the legacy of all things relating to HACI/BFHS. He serves on the alumni Board of Directors, developed the updated website, and keeping the substantive information to sustain a permanent record of HACI/BFHS students, faculty, and staff through his skills.

As Bishop Fallon High School is sailing into the winds of obscurity, Joe is determined to make sure that the manifestations of our better days are preserved. He arraigned for all of the yearbooks, many editions of "The Shield" newspaper, and the Hall of Fame programs to be digitized and added to the Erie County Public Library historical collection. They are also available on the Bishop Fallon website as well.

From activities, such as the All-Years Reunions, (which over the many years have evolved and moved to a more fitting accessible location) to the Class of '69 Five-Year Formal Reunions which have taken place at Chef's Restaurant since our 30th, Joe is always present to assure functional purpose and direction as well as the richness and ambience of the aesthetics. Around all of this, Joe is always participating in informal class get-togethers laced in between.

From his days at Fallon, he has made a career of teaching and providing telecommunication technology in various areas. At graduation, he received the Father's Club award for school service. During the presentation, Father O'Leary proceeded to tell of his exploits getting caught installing an additional telephone in the gym for bingo workers as his mother tried to disappear in her seat from embarrassment. His career spans over 35 years teaching and developing curriculums at Erie Community College. Joe also worked for the Buffalo Bills performing audio and video production, computer, networking, and scoreboard support for 12 years before becoming the NFL Events Frequency Coordinator in Buffalo during the last 12 seasons of "retirement".

Regarding his personality, Joe is not mechanical. Joe lives his life with the values of St. Francis of Assisi sensitivities and sensibilities. His ability for outreach and resolution is second to none. Because of these and so many other true Catholic and humanitarian traits Joe Barrile is the personification of what it means to being a Fallonite and justifies induction into Bishop Fallon High School Hall of Fame.
